ABSTRACT

This Part-Time Instructor Handbook provides information and guidelines to assist part-time teachers in meeting their instructional assignment. The report is based on state board policies of the Colorado Community College and Occupational Education System, as well as policies and procedures of Pueblo Community College in Colorado (PCC). The handbook's 11 sections are as follow: part-time instructor activity guide, policies and procedures, grades, evaluation of instructors, office services, discipline problems, support services, employment information, campus services, personnel directory, and divisions and curricula offerings. Covered in these sections are policies on course syllabi, class length, student/instructor attendance, classroom observation, student/instructor evaluations, instructional competencies, educational equipment available, financial aid, library activities, and safety awareness. PCC issues this handbook in order to implement through its teachers the mission of meeting the community's educational needs, providing personalized service, and acting as the primary source of job preparation, workforce development, and transfer programs. The handbook also dictates the college's core values of partnership, positive environment, diversity, achievements, teamwork, improvement, responsiveness and accountability. Appended are additional guidelines, class forms, class reports, and employment requirements. (AS)

INTRODUCTION.

The purpose of this Part-Time Instructor Handbook is to provide information and guidelines to assist you in meeting your instructional assignment. If you should need information that is not addressed in this publication, please contact your department chairperson or the appropriate person at Pueblo Community College. This Handbook is based on State Board Policies of the Colorado Community College and Occupational Education System, as well as the Policies and Procedures of Pueblo Community College. If any discrepancies exist between the matters stated in this Handbook and these policies and procedures, the official publications take precedence.

SECTION I. Part-Time Instructor Activity Guide.

1. Course Planning Conference/Curriculum Meeting with Department Chairperson.
 - a. Review the approved textbook and related instructional materials.
 - b. Discuss syllabus and course outline. (See Appendix I for format).
 - c. Discuss specific department policies and procedures.
 - d. Provide a copy of the Master Schedule of Course Offerings, a PCC catalog, and a copy of the Part-Time Instructor Handbook.
 - e. Discuss outcome level expectations, grading philosophy and provide a sample test.
 - f. Discuss evaluation procedures (pages 14-30).
2. Instructor Application. In order to insure that your qualifications are properly documented, the College will need the following:
 - a. An application for employment and a completed employee packet which is available in the Human Resources Office, Room CA-210.
 - b. Official transcripts from all colleges attended.
 - c. Verification by letter or other means of your work experience, if required for vocational certification.
3. Course Syllabus. Your class will be expected to fulfill the requirements of the approved course syllabus. If you have recommendations regarding textbooks, supplemental materials, or the syllabus, please contact the appropriate department chairperson. (See Appendix I).

4. Class Lists.

- a. You will receive a class roll the first week of classes. Please verify that all students listed are in attendance. If students are listed who are not attending, they must be identified as no-shows or drops at this time to avoid financial liability for the tuition payment.
- b. Please verify that all students attending are listed on the class list. Any students attending who are not listed must complete registration forms in order to continue attending class and be allowed to receive Pueblo Community College credit for the course. Please inform the student.
- c. During the term you will receive a class list which you will be expected to review, verify for accuracy and return to Admissions and Records. A Pueblo Community College academic record will be created based on your information.
- d. Before the end of the semester, you will be provided with grade sheets and instructions for processing your final grades. Be sure to observe the deadline specified for submitting your grades. NOTE: A GRADE OF "W" MAY NOT BE ASSIGNED ON THE GRADE SHEET. STUDENTS MAY WITHDRAW UP TO THE LAST THIRTY PERCENT (30%) OF THE CLASS. THEREAFTER, A GRADE OF "A" – "F" OR "I" MUST BE ASSIGNED. A copy of your attendance record, grade record, tests, and criteria for determining grades, must be turned in with your final grade sheet. Students have up to one year to contest a grade, and this documentation will be the basis of determining the outcome of an appeal should we be unable to contact you. Those instructors with SIS access may check the 1G7 screen anytime during and after the term to ensure that their grades and enrollments are correct.

5. During the first week of class, make sure your students know:

- a. When you will be available to provide individualized assistance.
- b. That they must process through the College Admissions & Records Office if they wish to drop the course or withdraw from the College (see Drop/Refund Period and Withdrawal Policy in Policies and Procedures Section).
- c. Your attendance policy.

- d. How grades will be determined. The method of determining grades should be clearly stated and a supplemental sheet distributed to students stating any special requirement or grading procedures. A copy of the supplemental sheet should be provided to your department chairperson.
6. Required Class Length: Classes have been scheduled so that the required minimum instruction time is provided. To meet this requirement and to meet the course objectives in your syllabus, you are required to utilize all scheduled class time. Classes should start promptly at the appointed time and end promptly to allow your students sufficient time to get to their next class.
7. Assist students to follow the drop/add/withdrawal and other policies presented in the section headed "Policies and Procedures". For your convenience, the end of the Drop/Refund Period and Last Date to Withdraw are provided on the class list.
8. Any change from the scheduled class meeting place must be approved by your chairperson and filed with the appropriate department administrative assistant. (See Class Cancellation/Change Form in the Appendix).
9. Please comply with all due dates. The calendar for the term is listed in the Schedule of Classes. Contact the Admissions and Records Office or an administrative assistant for due dates associated with special length classes.
10. If you are unsure about any College policy or procedure, inform your department chairperson.
11. Academic Honesty – Establish a climate of academic integrity by discussing its importance and reviewing the sanctions for academic dishonesty. Refer to the Student Handbook for procedures for handling allegations of academic dishonesty. Contact the College Student Judicial Officer at 549-3035 if you have questions.

SECTION II. Policies and Procedures.

College Catalog. The current Pueblo Community College catalog contains the rules and regulations in effect at the time of publication. It also lists official degree plans, course descriptions, and is a good resource for academic regulations, program requirements, and services.

Assessment of Basic Skills. Pueblo Community College requires assessment testing for all entering students. Scores for correct placement in mathematics, English, and reading can be obtained from your department chairperson. Students must achieve a 12th grade reading equivalent to enroll in core academic classes and a 10th grade equivalent to enroll in other classes unless courses have specified requirements that are different from this. During the first week of classes, please check that students have been placed correctly. Announce any prerequisites (such as English 121 being a prerequisite for English 122) the first day of class and refer students without the prerequisites to their advisors.

Basic Skills Assessment is conducted through the Counseling & Career Services (Advising, Career and Transfer) Office in the College Center, Room 258, telephone 549-3030).

Class Lists. Check carefully that all class lists are accurate and correct problems immediately to avoid billing and records problems later. DO NOT ALLOW STUDENTS TO ATTEND CLASS UNLESS THEIR NAMES APPEAR ON THE LIST OR VERIFICATION OF ENROLLMENT HAS BEEN PROVIDED. IDENTIFY NO SHOWS AND RETURN LISTS AS REQUESTED. STUDENTS MAY NOT BE ISSUED GRADES UNLESS THEIR NAMES APPEAR ON THE CLASS ROLL.

Drop/Refund Period. During the first 15% of a class a student may drop or be dropped (no show) without creating a college transcript or incurring financial obligation for the class. The deadline date is listed on your class list.

Withdrawal Policy. A student may withdraw from class at any time up to the last 30 percent of the class. Thereafter, the student must receive a grade of A through F or I, not a W. The last day to withdraw from classes is stated in the current PCC Schedule of Classes. (Contact the Admissions and Records office or an administrative assistant for withdrawal deadlines for special length courses or refer to your class list.)

- Student's Procedure to Withdraw from a Class:

If a student wishes to withdraw from a class:

1. The student must obtain a Withdraw From Class Form from the instructor, a department administrative assistant, or the Admissions and Records office. (See Appendix for form).
2. The student should complete his/her portion of the form and submit it to the instructor (or department administrative assistant) or the staff located in the Admissions and Records Office.
 - a. Instructor will add the Last Date of Attendance to the form, sign and send it to the Admissions and Records Office, or
 - b. Instructor may e-mail the same information provided in the Withdraw From Class Form to registrar@pcc.cccoes.edu (available for instructors with SIS access).
3. Instructors may not assign a grade of "W" during the last 30% of a class.

- Instructor's Procedure to Withdraw a Student from a Class:

An instructor may withdraw a student from class, usually due to non-attendance, by:

1. Completing the Withdraw From Class Form and sending it to the Admissions and Records Office, or
2. Utilizing one of the regularly scheduled class list distributions in lieu of completing a Withdraw From Class Form if the withdrawal is prior to the deadline date for withdrawals, or
3. E-mailing the same information provided on the Withdraw From Class Form to registrar@pcc.cccoes.edu (available for instructors with SIS access).
4. Instructors may not assign a grade of "W" during the last 30% of a class.

Reinstatement. After a student has been dropped by the instructor, it is possible for the student to be reinstated if the terms of reinstatement are agreed upon by both the student and the instructor. (Sometimes it is helpful to put the agreement in writing and have the student sign it.) A form must be obtained from the Admissions and Records Office and completed by the instructor and the student. (See Appendix for Form).

Instructor Attendance. As an part-time instructor you must meet each assigned class for its full length. In the event that you can not meet an assigned class, due to illness or emergency, contact your chairperson as early as possible. Then fill out the green Class Change or Cancellation Form (Appendix V) available from the administrative assistants. At the end of the month, note your absence on the Faculty Monthly Absence Report (Appendix VI). These forms are used for any type of change such as field trips, room changes, etc. Please note that classes should not be canceled for on-campus activities (unless they relate directly to course content), holidays not on the college calendar, etc. Also, although guest speakers may be invited to class, part-time instructors may not contract with another party to teach the class.

Part-time instructors are invited and encouraged to attend the meetings of the department, division, and general faculty and to participate in professional and staff development activities at the College.

An all-faculty meeting is held each month. Division meetings are also held on a regular basis, as are Department Chair meetings. The Instructional Vice Presidents will set regular meeting dates and times. (Frequency and times may vary).

Student Attendance. Regular and punctual attendance is expected of all students, and a complete record of attendance must be kept by each instructor for the entire length of each course. Students will be counted absent from class meetings missed beginning with the first official date of enrollment. Student withdrawals must be received by the Records Office within three weeks following the student's last date of recorded attendance and the last day of attendance must be noted on the Drop Form. Student withdrawals cannot be processed the last 30 percent of the course length.

It is the student's responsibility, whether present or absent, to obtain all material presented and to complete all course assignments. Twenty percent absence of each student's possible attendance in lecture and/or laboratory classes will be taken as evidence that a student does not intend to complete the course. He/she may be withdrawn at that time as determined by the instructor (according to college procedures). It is the student's responsibility to inform the instructor of the reason for an absence and to do so in a timely fashion.

The attendance policy for certain programs, such as health careers, may differ from the general policy due to clinical requirements or requirements of approving agencies.

NO SHOW STUDENTS: Any registered student who does not attend class during the first six (6%) percent of the class contact hours (add period) must be dropped from the roll unless special arrangements are made with the instructor. A student dropped as a "No Show" will forfeit his/her position in a class. An instructor may not designate a student as a "No Show" on the final grade roster.

REINSTATEMENT PROCESS: Students with legitimate excuses who have maintained their course work, have kept the instructor informed, and intend to continue with and complete the class may qualify for reinstatement.

Reinstatement will depend upon class space available and approval by the instructor. Students can request reinstatement to a class by completing the Reinstatement to Class Form available in either your Vice President's Office or the Records Office (See Appendix for Form). Once the instructor has approved a student's reinstatement, the form is forwarded to the Records Office for processing. Reinstatements will not be accepted the last 30 percent of the semester or any other class length. Any unexcused absence after a reinstatement, as determined by the instructor, will result in an automatic withdrawal.

It is the student's responsibility to properly process a drop to obtain a refund of tuition and fees. See "Dropping Courses" in the catalog for additional information.

Handling Student Information. In your work you will have access to student information which must be treated with great care. You may use the information in your work with the student, but you may not share it with others. The Family Educational Rights and Privacy Act (FERPA) restricts the release of anything but directory information without student consent and also allows students to review records pertaining to them. If you have any further questions about the release of information, please call the Pueblo Community College Admissions and Records Office at 719-549-3010.

Common problems with handling student data include:

1. Documents with a student's ID number should be shredded or otherwise securely destroyed.
2. A student should not be allowed to see another's information on your PC monitor or papers on your desk.
3. You may not post a list of the student ID numbers (usually the social security number) of the students in your class by name or ID number.
4. The student's spouse or parents do not have access to PCC records without written permission from the student.
5. If you do not recognize a student who phones requesting information, be sure to verify that student's identity by asking for the student's month and day of birth.
6. Do not give out information about the time or location of a student's class.
7. Refer all emergency requests for information to Admissions and Records or Campus Security.

8. Notes about an advisee kept in a file handled by an administrative assistant become part of the student's record. The student may examine these records and challenge them using established PCC procedures. Notes that are kept in your sole possession are not part of the student's record and not subject to FERPA.

SECTION III. Grades.

The PCC system of grading is expressed in letters which carry grade points used in calculating the cumulative grade-point average.

To calculate a grade-point average (GPA), the total number of points are divided by the total number of quality hours. Quality hours include the credits from A, B, C, D, and F grades. Credit for the S grade is earned but not used in the GPA calculation.

Letter Grade		Grade Points Per Unit of Credit
A	(Excellent)	4
B	(Good)	3
C	(Average)	2
F	(Failure)	0
S	(Satisfactory)	*
U	(Unsatisfactory)	**
I	(Incomplete)	**
OE	(Open Exit/Grade Pending)	**
IP	(In Progress)	**
AU	(Audit – No Credit)	**
W	(Withdrawal)	**
Z	(No Grade Assigned)	**

Credit is not used to compute grade-point average but is counted toward total credits earned.*

No credit is given and grade is not used to compute grade-point average.*

Grades of S, U, IP, and OE may be used only in certain approved courses. The "D" grade is not an acceptable performance level in most courses and programs.

Audit Grade: A student who is auditing a class pays the same tuition and fees as those enrolled for credit.

Reporting Grades. Grades are reported at the end of the semester or other intervals based on the length of the class on computer forms distributed by the department for all students in your class. Review instructions carefully. Be sure to date and sign each grade sheet and provide a telephone number where you can be reached in case there are questions.

It is important that completed grade sheets be returned personally to the designated College contact person by the deadline listed on the instruction sheet. If grade sheets are not returned by the specified deadline, none of the students on the grade roster will receive a grade on their grade report. If this occurs, then you will be required to file a change of grade form for EACH student. Do not return the grade sheets directly to the Admissions and Records Office.

Incomplete Grades. A grade of I (Incomplete) is a temporary grade indicating that the student has a satisfactory record in work completed, but has not completed the course requirements.

1. Instructors may assign I grades only if the student has completed 85% of the course work.
2. To assign an I grade, the instructor must designate an I grade on the official grade roster.
3. A student must complete the requirements for removing the incomplete grade within the next full-length semester (Summer excluded). If the student fails to complete the course work, a grade of F will be assigned.
4. A student is not required to re-register for the course and is not required to pay additional tuition and fees.

Grade Changes. Final grades entered with the Admissions & Records Office are unalterable unless a Grade Change Form has been completed and signed by the Instructor and the College Department Chairperson.

It is the responsibility of the student to request a grade change from the instructor if one is justified. Normally, grade changes shall be processed within the following term; but in no event shall changes be approved after a time lapse of one calendar year. A grade of W may not be changed. (See Appendix IV).

Grade Reports to Students. The Admissions and Records Office makes available a record of grades and credits to the student at the end of each semester upon request from the student. Students may call the following numbers to obtain their grade reports: Pueblo 549-3099; Outside Pueblo 1-800-314-9520.

SECTION IV. Evaluation of Instructors

Instructors will be evaluated according to their fulfillment of the established Pueblo Community College Professional Responsibilities of Instructors (page 15) and Instructional Competencies (pages 16-25).

Schedule of Evaluation

Supervisors should communicate the criteria, schedule, and procedures to be used in the evaluation to the instructor during the first three weeks of the semester or term of evaluation.

Evaluations of instructors should be conducted after 60 to 80 percent of the scheduled hours have been completed. To apportion the workload evenly, the supervisor may determine in which semester an instructor will be evaluated. Specific date and time of evaluation will be determined by the instructor or supervisor.

Additional classroom observations or student evaluations may be requested at any time if the supervisor and/or instructor deems them necessary.

Instructors who teach under more than one supervisor will be evaluated by each supervisor.

1. Classroom observations

Instructors will be observed annually during their first four semesters of employment (including summer semester). Instructors who have completed four or more semesters at PCC and have satisfactory evaluation scores must be observed every two years or more frequently at the discretion of the supervisor.

2. Student evaluations

Instructors will be evaluated by students annually during their first four semesters of employment (including summer semester). Instructors who have completed four or more semesters at PCC and have satisfactory evaluation scores must be evaluated by students every two years or more frequently at the discretion of the supervisor. Evaluations will be conducted following the established Pueblo Community College protocol.

Instructors should contact their supervisors to review the evaluation instruments. The available instruments are described on page 27.

Classroom Observation

1. Procedure:

- a. Prior to the classroom observation, the supervisor will meet with each instructor for a pre-observation conference to select a class or classes for observation and to set the date and time for the classroom observation(s). Other purposes of the pre-conference may include, but are not limited to, the following:
 - to discuss the purpose of the classroom observation,
 - to acquaint the appraiser with the activities that will be observed and the objectives that will be taught,
 - to inform the appraiser of any special characteristics of the learning environment that may affect the results of the classroom observations(s), and/or
 - to determine specific areas or competencies the appraiser wishes to observe.
- b. The appraiser will conduct a post-observation conference to discuss the results of the observation, make recommendations, provide the opportunity for the instructor to respond to the results, and determine if additional classroom observations are necessary. Additional classroom observations may be requested by the supervisor to observe specific instructional competencies for the purpose of completing the evaluation form or revising a previous score(s). The instructor may request additional classroom observations to improve a previous score(s), correct an identified weakness, or receive additional feedback from the supervisor for self-improvement.
- c. The appraiser will fill out the Instructional Competencies Checklist. Signed copies will be submitted to the Human Resources Office, the instructor, and the supervisor.

2. Instructional Competencies Checklist:

Supervisors should observe the following guidelines in completing the Instructional Competencies Checklist.

- a. The checklist need not be completed during the observation session. Observers may record their initial reactions in any form they prefer, then transfer their observations to the form at a later time.

- b. All eight instructional competencies must be assessed as part of the supervisor evaluation, though they do not necessarily have to be observed during the required observation session. By mutual consent of the instructor and supervisor, additional observation sessions may be scheduled to observe and record points in all eight competencies. However, classroom observation is only one method of data collection to assess instructional competencies. The supervisor may choose to consider other data sources. Sources in addition to classroom observations may include, but need not be limited to, videotapes of the class, materials created for a specific purpose, and/or observations of a secondary appraiser.

C. Student Evaluation

1. Each instructor will be evaluated by students in two classes/labs after at least 60 and no more than 80 percent of the scheduled hours have been completed. The instructor being evaluated will choose one class, and his/her immediate supervisor will choose the second class. Evaluations will be conducted following the established Pueblo Community College Protocol (page 26). Only the items set forth in the list of student evaluation forms will be used for obtaining official student evaluation results.
2. Department chair and/or instructor may add items to the evaluation instrument to gain developmental/improvement data. These items, however, will not be part of the evaluation statistics.

D. Instructor's Self-Evaluation

Instructor completes the Self-Evaluation form (pages 28-29) to provide additional input to the supervisor evaluation process and to comment on circumstances that may have adversely affected student evaluations.

1. Instructor should observe the following guidelines in completing the Self-Evaluation form:
 - a. Unlike the Instructional Competencies Checklist, the Self-Evaluation form does not list the descriptors of success for each instructional competency. Instructor may consult the list of descriptors on the Instructional Competencies Checklist for help in describing effectiveness in each area.

- b. To evaluate fulfillment of professional responsibilities, instructor should refer to the list of Professional Responsibilities of Instructors.
- c. Under "Comments Regarding Student Evaluations," instructor may supply any information relevant to the outcome of the student evaluation. Comments might describe the setting in which the class meets, the number of students in attendance on the day of the evaluation, the difficulty of course content, a recent incident that affected class morale, or any other situation which instructor wishes to make known.

F. Supervisor Evaluation

Supervisors should observe the following guidelines in completing the Supervisor Evaluation form (pages 30-31):

- a. In assigning points for teaching effectiveness, supervisors will consider the results of the classroom observation plus any additional materials provided by instructor, to include: syllabi, videotapes of classroom performance, handouts, written comments of students on the student evaluation form, etc.
- b. For competencies evaluated (with a "1", "2" or "4"), supervisors must provide explanatory comments.
- c. To evaluate instructor fulfillment of professional responsibilities, supervisors should refer to the list of Professional Responsibilities of Instructors.

PROFESSIONAL RESPONSIBILITIES OF INSTRUCTORS

SECTION V. Office Services

You have been assigned a mailbox. Notices, class lists, notes, etc. will be left there, so mailboxes should be checked each day you come to class.

You are invited to drop in to see the department chairperson whenever you need to discuss something. If he/she does not normally hold office hours at a time convenient to you, call and make an appointment. You may also leave messages in the chairperson's mailbox or on his/her voice mail.

Typing. Typing is done by the division administrative assistant. Please allow adequate time for any typing jobs.

Copying. If you have fifteen or fewer copies to make, you may use the division copy machine during office hours. After 5:00 p.m., the Library copy machine in the Academic Building may be used, or ask the department chairperson or the administrative assistant about the procedure for making copies after hours in your division. A copy card or copy code will be provided for part-time instructors. If you have more than fifteen copies to make, please use the PCC Printshop and allow three days for the lowest cost.

Before you copy any materials, check copyright rules. Occasionally, you may copy a brief passage, diagram, etc., for one class if your decision is spontaneous (i.e., there is insufficient time to request permission to copy). Note that the PCC Printshop checks copyrights carefully and may refuse material without appropriate permission.

Audio-Visual Equipment. Most departments have their own overhead projectors. Check with your department chairperson. The Library has VCRs, opaque projectors, audio cassette players, etc. Check with the Library at extension 3305 (549-3305).

SECTION VI. Discipline Problems

Since the typical Pueblo Community College student is a mature person, discipline problems are rare. Your chairperson will assist you with solutions to special problems that may arise. Some typical problems that have occurred in the past follow:

Academic Misconduct. The College Catalog lists several student actions that may constitute academic misconduct. If one of your students is involved in academic misconduct, you should immediately report the infraction to the College Student Judicial Officer, Dennis Trujillo-Johnson, at extension 3035 (549-3035).

Student Discipline. Every effort is made to protect the learning environment. Disruption of the classroom is not tolerated. Many instructors tell the misbehaving person(s) to leave if the conduct does not improve immediately. If the conduct does not improve and the student(s) responsible will not leave, contact security for assistance and/or inform your department chairperson or Vice President as soon as possible. You should also notify the College Student Judicial Officer, Dennis Trujillo-Johnson, at extension 3035 (549-3035).

Several actions may constitute non-academic misconduct. These actions are listed in the College Catalog and the PCC Student Handbook. If any of these actions take place in the classroom, you should immediately seek advice from your department chairperson. You should also contact the College Student Judicial Officer, Dennis Trujillo-Johnson, at extension 3035 (549-3035), for advice and to develop a plan of action.

Threats or Intimidation. If a student threatens you, do not ignore it or try to solve it alone. CONTACT THE CAMPUS SECURITY OFFICE AT ONCE! You should also notify your department chairperson and the College Student Judicial Officer.

Smoking, Drinking, and Food in the Classroom. No smoking, food, or drinks are permitted in the classroom. The Pueblo Community College campus buildings are smoke free. You are asked to observe the posted regulations.
